

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A buyer notifies a service provider of desired merchandize/services by inputting information from a Web or sending mail. The service provider notifies each seller of the category of the purchase request merchandize and the number of potential buyers desiring this merchandize. A seller presents information such as a price to the buyer via the service provider.